Ready Next Week. Hall Caine's New Novel:

THE CHRISTIAN.

By HALL CAINE, author of "The Manxman," "The Bondman," "The Deemster," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

This is a drama of frail human nature aspiring to perfection and struggling to attain the highest ideal. The story opens in the Isle of Man, but the action takes place for the most part in London, and the author's strenuous preparation for this book is suggested by the succession of moving and dramatic scenes from a strange and unknown life in the world's metropolis. His mastery of the human drama has never been shown so forcibly. The romance throbs with life, and the emotional force of these pictures of aspiration, temptation, love, and tragedy reaches a height which will make a lasting impression upon the literature of our time.

Second Edition.

EQUALITY.

By EDWARD BELLAMY, author of "Looking Backward," "Dr. Heidenhoff's Process," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"It is a greater book than 'Looking Backward,' while it is more powerful; and the smoothness, the never-failing interest, the limpid clearness and the simplicity of the argument, and the timeliness, will make it extremely popular. Here is a book that every one will read and enjoy." —Boston Herald.

"'Equality' will raise many discussions. The subject which Mr. Bellamy writes about is inexhaustible, and it has never-failing human interest." —New York Times.

"Deserves praise for its completeness. It shows the thought and work of years. It apparently treats of every phase of its subject. . . Altogether praiseworthy and quite remarkable." —Chicago Tribune.

FAMILIAR FEATURES OF THE ROADSIDE.

By F. SCHUYLER MATHEWS, author of "Familiar Flowers of Field and Garden," "Familiar Trees and Their Leaves," etc. With 130 illustrations by the author. 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

The country roads have a life of their own of great interest if one is properly guided, and Mr. Mathews has written his book in order to set forth the life of the trees, bushes, flowers, insects, and birds which are found along the roads. He has carried out an idea which will interest those who walk, or drive, or ride a wheel in the country, and the book will be indispensable for any one who lives in or visits the country.

BARBARA · BLOMBERG.

A Historical Romance. By Dr. GEORG EBERS, author of "Uarda," "Cleopatra," "Joshua," etc. Translated by Mary J. Safford. Two vols., 16mo, cloth, $1.50; paper, 80 cents.

The time of this strong historical romance is the period of turmoil which followed the death of Luther, when Protestants and Catholics were struggling for the mastery in Germany and the Netherlands. The story opens in the city of Ratisbon, where Charles v. meets Barbara Bloomberg, and is captivated by her voice, in spite of the distractions caused by warring princes and burghers. Later the story changes to the Netherlands and pictures the stirring scenes preceding the work of liberation. The romance offers a series of vivid sketches of dramatic events which had far-reaching consequences.

A COLONIAL FREE-LANCE.

By C. C. HOTCHKISS, author of "In Defiance of the King." No. 222, Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

The welcome given to "In Defiance of the King" proves the growth of American appreciation of new American writers of genuine talent. In this new romance of the Revolution Mr. Hotchkiss shows a power of sustained interest and a command of dramatic effects which will make his book a notable addition to our fiction. The scene of his stirring tale is laid for the most part in old New York during the British occupancy, on Long Island Sound, and on Martha's Vineyard. It is certain that no one who has begun this spirited and fascinating story will leave it unfinished.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE ZOLA PUBLISHING CO., Ironwood, Mich., announces a "Dictionary of Classical and Foreign Quotations, Words, and Phrases," by F. Russell Harvey.

BOUSSOD, VALADON & CO. have just issued the 6th and concluding fascicule of the "1897 Figaro-Salon," with descriptive text by Philippe Gille. The full-page colored plate accompanying this part is a reproduction of François Lafor's painting, entitled "Déclaration de Guerre entre le Roi de France et l'Empereur d'Autriche, en 1792."

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & CO. announce for early publication a small volume by the Rev. George H. C. Macgregor, of London, who has recently aroused considerable interest by his address before Mr. Moody's Summer School at Northfield. The little volume is entitled "The Christian's Aspirations," and is a notable addition to religious literature.

THE EXCELSIOR PUBLISHING HOUSE, T. J. Carey & Co., 26 City Hall Place, has just ready a work entitled "Klondike and all about it," by a practical mining engineer. The work contains instructions how to get to the Alaskan gold fields, directions as to outfit, clothes, food, expenses, etc., the mining laws of the United States and Canada, and an up-to-date map of Alaska.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish at once a book that will display the humor and fancy of the late H. C. Bunner in an unusual and delightful way. It is entitled "Three Operettas," and is designed for children. It is said that in his librettos Mr. Bunner has done some charmingly whimsical work, and that the music, written for it by Oscar Weil, is very happily adapted to the lyrics.

HINDS & NOBLE will publish on the 15th inst., in the University Tutorial series, the third (copyrighted) edition of Mackenzie's "Ethics." From twenty to thirty new text-books have been added during this year to this series in the field of sciences, mathematics, Latin, Greek, French, and English. Besides being the exclusive American agents for this series, Hinds & Noble have also undertaken the special agency for New York and vicinity of the publications of C. W. Bardeen, of Syracuse, N. Y.

CHARLES H. SERGEL COMPANY have just ready two books by authors high in popular esteem. "For the Cause," by Stanley J. Weyman, is a collection of five stories not previously issued in book form, said to show the author of "A Gentleman of France" and "Under the Red Robe" at his best. "The Wreck of the Corsaire," by William Clark Russell, is still another of those wonderful sea stories that have gained the admiration of experts for their strict accuracy in nautical matters and the praise of the general reader for their unflagging interest and true romance.

D. APPLETON & CO. have just ready Hall Caine's new story, "The Christian," for the material for which the author is reported to have spent months in studying what may be termed subterranean London. The titles of the four parts into which the story is divided are "The Outer World," "The Religious Life," "The Devil's Acre," and "Sanctuary." They have also just published "Barbara Blomberg," a romance of the period of turmoil which followed the death of Luther, by Dr. Georg Ebers; and "A Colonial Free-Lance," a new story by C. C. Hotchkiss, author of "In Defiance of the King." They will publish early in November Mme. Sarah Grand's new novel. The author in this work traces the development of a woman of genius from her girlhood to her marriage. It is described as a most subtle and extraordinary study of a woman's psychological evolution, while the book as a story is said to be characterized by an abundance of delightful humor and incident. It is supposed in England that the story is largely autobiographical.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illus. rated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq. obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

The Waldenses living in the Alpine valleys, between Mount Cenis and Mount Viso, reject the theory of historians that their sect was founded in the twelfth century by Peter Waldo, believing that they have lived in Italy from time immemorial. In a brief history, introducing customs and traditions, there is an effort to show the antiquity of the primitive people, and to honor their steadfastness. The cruel persecutions of the Church of Rome are described. Index.

Most of the action occurs in the art studios of New York City. One of the women who posed was a society girl who frequented the studios because Bohemian life attracted her; the other was a professional model, who earned a living by posing in costume. A well-known artist plays an important part in the lives of both women, although he is not the hero of the sensational novel.

Bost., Lamson, Wolff & Co., 1897. c. 4+ 355 p. D. cl., $1.50. [2450]

A historical novel founded on incidents that happened in Virginia before and during the Revolutionary War. General Washington, Lord Fairfax, and other famous persons of Old Dominion times are incidentally mentioned. The principal characters are Betty Polythress, a colonial belle, her cousin Rolfe, a descendant of the Randolphs, Captain Geoffrey Flower, a soldier of King George, and Lord Avenel, an English villain. The story ends romantically.

Instruction in a practical form for Ruling Elders, concerning their office and duties. The author's method is to personate a Ruling Elder under a pastor well qualified to develop his efficiency. The experiences narrated, questions considered, responsibilities encountered, difficulties and encouragements met, are real occurrences, and form part of the life of every Elder. The information is drawn partly from personal experience, from the constitution of the Presbyterian church, and the decisions of the General Assembly interpreting it.

In 1880 Dr. William H. Whitsitt, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, published anonymously in the Independent two articles questioning the immersion of Roger Williams. These views were repeated in Johnson's "New universal cyclopaedia," 1893, under Dr. Whitsitt's signature. In 1896 the Doctor acknowledged the authorship of the articles in the Independent. The discussion which followed led to the publication of "A question of Baptist history," which contains appendix, giving the Doctor's reasons for supporting his theory. The present work is an attempt to refute the Whitsitt argument.

Published for the Egypt Exploration Fund. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1897. 20 p. 2 pl. O. pap., 15 c. [2459]

Three young Oxford scholars in the course of their labors for the Egypt Exploration Fund found a leaf from a papyrus book at Behnesa, about 1.0 miles south of Cairo. It is 5 3/4 by 3 3/4 inches in size, and contains eight sayings ascribed to Christ. Each begins "Jesus saith." This leaf is photographed from both sides and given in facsimile. Of the eight "logia" two are undecipherable and four are substantially identical with familiar passages in the Gospels. These sayings are believed to date from somewhere between 150 and 300 A.D. This pamphlet gives a general history of the discovery, the facsimile, the Greek text of the logia, the English translation, and many notes and general remarks.

Pease, Z. W. The Catalpa expedition. New Bedford, Mass., G. S. Anthony, 1897. c. 7+215 p. D. cl., $1.50. [2474]

The bark Catalpa was fitted out in 1876, ostensibly as a whaler, by New York Fenians, for the purpose of rescuing a number of Irish political prisoners sentenced to a lifetime of servitude in the English penal colony in Australia. Captain George S. Anthony, of New Bedford, commanded the expedition, and it was his persistent courage that made it a success. The prisoners, after many exciting experiences, were freed and carried to New York. A history is given of the conspiracy of 1867, for which they were imprisoned, the trial, etc., with personal details of the prisoners.

*Pennsylvania. The law of decedents' estates; by W. Hardcastle Browne. Phil., G. T. Bisel, 1897. c. 2 v., 54+810; 811-1767 p. O. shp., $12. [2475]

*Penrose, C. B. Text-book of diseases of women. Phil., W. B. Saunders, 1897. 8°, cl., net, $3.50. [2476]

*Rapalje, Stewart, and Mack, W. A digest of railway decisions, embracing all the cases from the earliest period of railway litigation to the present time in the U. S., Eng., and Canada. V. 7, (Recitals to trestles.) Northport, N. Y., E. Thompson Co., 1897. c. 1167 p. O. shp., $7.50. [2477]

Richard, Marie E. The country charge. Phil., Lutheran Publication Soc., [1897.] c. 208 p. D. cl., 75 c. [2478]

In the form of fiction the author teaches that no matter what the mental and literary qualifications of a clergyman may be, unless he can make himself truly pastor and shepherd with true love and interest in the weakest of his flock, he has missed his vocation and will never be of use to himself or his congregation.

Richard, Marie E. Philip Jacob Spener and his work. [And] Augustus Hermann Francke and his work. Phil., Lutheran Publication Soc., 1897. c. 154 p. S. cl., 40 c. [2479]

Brief biographies of Philip Jacob Spener, who lived from 1635-1705, and Augustus Hermann Francke, who was born 1663, and died 1727. Both men are considered in the light of their work for German Lutheranism. Special reference is made to the condition of the Lutheran church in Germany in 1635, also to the methods of Francke, who continued Spener's work after the latter died.

*Ruddiman, E. A. Incompatibilities in prescriptions. N. Y., J. Wiley & Sons, 1897. 3+264 p. 8°, cl., $2. [2480]

*Sanderson, F. W. Electricity and magnetism for beginners. N. Y., The Macmillan Co., 1897. 9+244 p. il. 16°, cl., net, 70 c. [2481]

*Sheridan, R. Brinsley. The school for scandal; ed., with a preface and notes, by G. A. Aitken. N. Y., The Macmillan Co., 1897. 32°, (Temple dramatists.) cl., 45 c.; mor., 65 c. [2482]

*Shipman, B. J. Handbook of the law of equity pleading. St. Paul, Minn., West Pub. Co., 1897. c. 12+632 p. O. (The hornbook ser.) shp., $3.75. [2483]

Slosson, Annie Trumbull. Puzzled. N. Y., Bonnell, Silver & Co., [1897.] 8 p. obl. Fe. pap., 25 c. [2484]

The reflections of an old woman (told in verse), who is asked if she is "High Church or Low."

Tomlinson, Everett T. Washington's young aids: a story of the New Jersey campaign, 1776-1777; il. by C. Copeland. Bost., W. A. Wilde & Co., [1897.] c. 3+391 p. sq. D. (War of the Revolution ser., no. 3.) cl., $1.50. [2485]

Two of the young men of this story were the heroes of the former volumes of the series, viz., "Three colonial boys" and "Three young Continentals." The place of their former companion and friend, Evart Van Slyke, who fell in the battle of Long Island, is, in a measure, replaced by a New Jersey boy named Jonas Baker. The historical details of the story are taken from old records. These include accounts of the life on the prison-ships and in the prison-houses of New York, the raids of the pine robbers, the tempting of the Hessians, the end of Fagan and his band, etc.

Vincent, Arthur, and others. Lives of twelve bad women: illustrations and reviews of feminine turpitude set forth by impartial hands; edited by Arthur Vincent. Bost., L. C. Page & Co., 1897. 24+324 p. il. O. cl., $4. [2486] Contains sketches of (1) "Alice Perrers, favorite of King Edward III., (died 1400)," by Arthur Vincent. (2) "Alice Arden, murderer, (executed 1551)," by Abel H. Coppinger. (3) "Moll Cutpurse, thief and receiver, (? 1584-1659)," by Charles Andrews (4) "Frances Howard, Countess of Somerset, (1593-1632)," by Geoffrey Martin. (5) "Barbara Villiers, Duchess of Cleveland (1640-1709)," by Alfred Kalish. (6) Jenny Diver, pickpocket, (executed 1741)," by Charles Andrews. (7) "Teresa Constantia Phillips, (1709-1765)," by Gilbert Burgess. (8) "Elizabeth Brownrigg, cruelly personified, (? 1720-1767)," by Edgar Stubbs. # The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

AUGUST 7, 1897.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE AFFAIRS OF THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS CORPORATION.

AGAIN the end has come to an enterprise in the publishing trade which has had an interesting and checkered history, if recurrent and continuing failure can be counted as checkered. The American Publishers Corporation, in acknowledging bankruptcy, confesses, it is stated, that it has been a failure from the start. So long ago as April 1, 1893, in an editorial discussion of the proposed reorganization of the United States Book Company, THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY questioned seriously "whether it was wise to give absolute power to any committee to use the wreckage of this business to build up another which might take practically the same lines." History has repeated itself with great promptness, and the unwieldy concern which developed out of the original ambitious but weak management has again come to disaster.

The moral is a simple one. No business can be permanent on a balloon basis. Anything which is to be made permanent must be built on a solid foundation. This is as true in business as elsewhere, and it is especially true of the book-publishing business.

What will become of the tangible assets of the American Publishers Corporation, consisting of stock and plates, it is difficult to say. There will probably be a sacrifice sale, and some of the quantities of these goods may "flood the market," but the market has already been flooded with similar editions of the kind of books made and sold by this company, and is not likely to be greatly hurt by whatever may happen in this direction. On the other hand, the legitimate competing interests in the publishing trade will probably not be the worse for the elimination of this very uncertain factor in the less legitimate trade. In saying this, it should not be understood that we cast slurs upon the recent management of the concern. It has been ineffective, but perhaps nothing worse. It was a most difficult situation with which to deal, and perhaps it could not have been better dealt with. But the end has come once more, and probably come for the last time.

INDEX LIBRORUM PROHIBITORUM.

THE "Index Librorum Prohibitorum," often confused with the "Index Librorum Expurgandorum," or Expurgatorius (that catalogues the works which may be read after the deletion of specified passages), is a large volume of 419 pages. It contains the titles of 20,000 volumes which, on doctrinal or moral grounds, the Roman Catholic Church, under penalty of ecclesiastical censures, authoritatively forbids the members of her communion to possess or to read. Eight thousand authors are named in it. Everything that Renan wrote is condemned, but only the more profane, from a Roman Catholic standpoint, of Voltaire's works appear in the index. Taine's "History of English Literature" is under the ban, but his studies on the French Revolution are omitted from the list of prohibited books by the wish of Leo XIII. All of Cousin's works are condemned, but only four of Lamartine's.

For obvious reasons Eugene Sue's "Wandering Jew" and the "Mysteries of Paris" are both forbidden reading. The Index contains a complete catalogue of the works of both the elder and the younger Dumas, but only two of Victor Hugo's books are found in it—"Les Misérables" and "Notre Dame de Paris." There are two Zolas in the Index—one is the author of "Rome," the other is a theologian of the last century.

The business of correcting the Index to date is now in the hands of an ecclesiastical board known as the Congregation of the Index, which consists of a prefect (who is always a cardinal) and other cardinals with whom are associated the "consultors" and "examiners of books" (qualificatores). The Roman Index is far from being an exhaustive catalogue of works inconsistent with Catholic orthodoxy, and therefore lacks the interest and importance it would otherwise have for the bibliographer.

The Christian Church began its system of prohibiting books when the Council of Nicaea condemned to the flames the writings of Arius. Constantine himself threatened with death those who should harbor any copies. The same fate befell the works of Nestorius at the Council of Ephesus, and those of Eutyches at Chalcedon. Pagan works were prohibited by the Council of Carthage in 400. Aristotle was forbidden by the church in the 13th century. A list of prohibited books is found in a decree of a council at Rome as early as 494. In 1515 the Council of Lateran at Rome appointed clerical censors to examine all works before publication. In 1543 Pope Paul IV. issued an order that no book should be printed without leave from the Inquisition, and booksellers were required to send in catalogues. Brunet mentions, however, a list of prohibited authors prepared by order of Charles V., which was printed at Brusse s in 1540, and is the earliest of its kind. The first Index of the Court of Rome appeared in 1558. The subject was discussed at the Council of Trent, which delegated the right of supervision to the Pope, and the result was the "Index Tridentinus of Pius IV." —the first strictly Papal Index—which was printed by Aldus in Rome in 1564. Thence began a long series of literary proscriptions, which is continued by the Congregation of the Index. The bibliography of prohibited literature has been covered to a great extent in Klotz's "De libris auctoribus suis fatalibus," 1761; Struvius's "Bibliotheca Hist. Litter.," vol. iii., chapter 9; Schelhorn's "Amœnitates Literariæ," vol. 7, which contains much curious information; Brunet's "Livres Supprimés et Condamnés"; and in Peignot's "Dictionnaire critique et bibliographique des principaux livres condamnés au feu, supprimés, ou censurés," 2 vols., Paris, 1806. Petzholdt, in his "Bibliotheca Bibliographica" (1866), gives a complete list of the catalogues of the Congregation of the Index.

ANARCHISTIC BOOKS IN FREE LIBRARIES.

THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY it seems, has given offence to a number of persons, described as anarchists, by refusing to allow them unrestricted access to the writings of the French and German school of socialists as typified by Henri Rochefort and his sympathizers. La Lanterne is on the index expurgatorius of the library as are also the more extreme of the German newspapers and magazines treating on anarchy and socialism. Louise Michel also comes under the head of things forbidden.

In speaking of this edict of Mr. Herbert Putnam, the librarian, in refusing to allow the more rabid and extreme publications of anarchistic and socialistic writers to be put into general circulation, Lindsay Swift, of the cataloguing department of the library, said to a reporter: "In the opinion of the librarian no good can be gained and much harm may be done by allowing works of this extreme character to be generally read. It may be asked why are these books placed in the library if not to be read? They are in the library for that purpose, and they may be read, but Mr. Putnam and his assistants reserve to themselves the right to choose the readers, and most common-sense people will agree with Mr. Putnam in such a decision. The average man of anarchistic or socialistic tendencies is not qualified by education or judgment to read the works I refer to, and estimate them at their proper value."

HEARING IN THE COMSTOCK - RICHMOND SUIT.

THE examination of George H. Richmond, charged by Anthony Comstock with sending copies of d'Annunzio's "Triumph of Death" to three young women in New Jersey through the medium of the Adams Express Company, was held on the 2d inst. before U. S. Commissioner Shields.

The present case is brought under the new law passed by Congress last winter, which makes it a criminal offence to send obscene literature by an express company, just as it has been unlawful for many years to send such matter by mail. The warrant for the arrest was issued by Commissioner Shields on the charge that Richmond had sent copies of the book on May 20 to Miss Ella Chambers, Bartlett's Female Seminary, Asbury Park, N. J.; another on April 26, to Miss A. R. Ascalle, High School, Asbury Park, N. J.; and on the same date a copy to Miss Esther Seeley, Baltimore, Md.

Anthony Comstock was the first witness. He testified that he had sent the registered letter bearing the signature of "Miss Esther Seeley." He received a registered receipt, and a day or two later a sealed copy of the book in question at his office in New York. The book had been forwarded by Adams Express Company from Baltimore. He said that he had mailed letters also bearing the signatures of Miss Chambers and Miss Ascalle to Richmond & Co. from New York, and that he had received the return registered receipt, and later on he had received the books from the Adams Express Company.

Upon further questioning Comstock said that he had told Richmond on April 6 last, after Richmond's acquittal, that notwithstanding the decision of the Court of Special Sessions, the book in question was non-mailable under the rules laid down in the United States courts. He testified that he appealed to Richmond not to sell the books to young people. A few days afterward he saw the advertisement of Richmond & Co. and also saw the book on sale. On the 21st of July he visited Mr. Richmond at his office, and called his attention to the United States laws, and said that the time had come when he was obliged to test the question whether the book in question was an immoral publication.

On cross-examination by counsel for Richmond, Comstock was asked why he had written these letters in the names of women. He replied: "To show the unscrupulous character of Richmond."

W. J. Peebles, librarian of the Mercantile Library, was sworn as a witness for the defence. He said that eight copies of the "Triumph of Death" are on the shelves of the library for general circulation.

The defendant was then called to the stand. He was questioned by counsel for defence as to the trial in the Court of General Sessions, but all these questions were ruled out by Commissioner Shields. Richmond was allowed to say, however, that Comstock seized about 600 copies of the book in question.

Two weeks were allowed counsel in which to submit briefs, and the examination was closed.

TEXT OF THE TARIFF ACT RELATING TO BOOKS.

THE following is the exact text of the tariff act approved July 24, commonly known as "The Dingley Law," as officially printed. It will be noted that the wording, as given below, differs in some respects from the text printed in former issues of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, which was taken from the reports given in the daily press:

SCHEDULE M.—Manufactures of Papers.

403. Books of all kinds, including blank books and pamphlets, and engravings bound or unbound, photographs, etchings, maps, charts, music in books or sheets, and printed matter, all the foregoing not specially provided for in this act, twenty-five per centum ad valorem.

FREE LIST.

500. Books, engravings, photographs, etchings, bound or unbound, maps and charts imported by authority or for the use of the United States or for the use of the Library of Congress.

501. Books, maps, music, engravings, photographs, etchings, bound or unbound, and charts which shall have been printed more than twenty years at the date of importation, and all hydrographic charts and publications issued for their subscriber, or exchanges by scientific and literary associations or academies, or publications of individuals for gratuitous private circulation, and public documents issued by foreign governments.

502. Books and pamphlets printed exclusively in languages other than English; also books and music in raised print, used exclusively by the blind.

503. Books, maps, music, photographs, etchings, lithographic prints, and charts, specially imported, not more than two copies in any one invoice, in good faith, for the use or by order of any society or institution incorporated or established solely for religious, philosophical, educational, scientific, or literary purposes, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for the use or by order of any college, academy, school or seminary of learning in the United States, or any state or public library, and not for sale, subject to such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

504. Books, libraries, usual and reasonable furniture, and similar household effects of persons or families from foreign countries, all the foregoing if actually used abroad by them not less than one year, and not intended for any other person or persons, nor for sale.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS CORPORATION IN THE RECEIVER'S HANDS.

THE foreseen has this time happened, and little surprise has been evinced since the news was made public on the 4th inst. that the American Publishers Corporation, on the day before, had made application for a receiver. Judge Pryor, of the Supreme Court, appointed John M. Forbes, of Morristown, N. J., and Lorenzo Semple, of New York, to take charge of the affairs of the company. As the company is a foreign organization incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, Mr. Forbes was appointed receiver in that State.

The American Publishers Corporation was incorporated on February 6, 1896, with a capital stock of $1,600,000, of which $1,250,000 was common stock and $350,000 preferred. As is well known the company is a reorganization of the United States Book Company and its branches which became bankrupt in 1893. Stewart Winslow is president and Frederick Bush treasurer. The company soon after organization mortgaged the greater part of its plant, plates, and other belongings to the Manhattan Trust Company, as trustee, to secure an issue of bonds to the amount of $944,000. Debenture bonds to the amount of $330,000 were also issued. The business was at no time prosperous, and the company had no capital rating at Bradstreet's, and failed to make enough money to pay the interest on the bonds due August 1.

The total liabilities are $1,347,600, consisting of first mortgage bonds, $944,000; debenture bonds, $330,000; interest on first mortgage bonds, $23,600; due for labor and merchandise, $50,000.

The assets consist of the plant, plates, copyrights, merchandise consisting of printed books, accounts, and bills receivable. Nine-tenths of the property is in New York City. In the application it is stated that the plant at a fair valuation as part of a going concern is worth not over $500,000, but if sold at forced sale at a foreclosure would not sell for over $70,000, as almost the entire plant was sold under foreclosure for about $70,000, when the property was a part of the plant of the United States Book Company.

The assets not included in the mortgage, consisting of books, accounts, and fixtures, are nominally placed at $150,000, against an indebtedness of $403,600. The various accounts owed by the company for goods and labor are past due, and the company has not the money on hand to pay them, nor the money to pay the interest which fell due August 1. The property in this State was liable to attachment, and to protect the assets the application was made for a receiver. Of the authorized capital stock the amount issued is $1,046,424. J. G. Cannon, G. G. Williams, and E. H. Perkins have called for the names of holders of the bonds in order to take steps to protect their interests.

COPYRIGHT ENTRIES IN 1896.

THE report of the Librarian of Congress gives the records of copyright entries for the year 1896 as 72,470, classified as follows:

Books, including all publications entered as such.	20,825
Periodicals.....	12,892
Musical compositons.....	20,951
Dramatic compositions.....	907
Photographs.....	6,123
Engravings.....	1,604
Lithographs.....	763
Chromos.....	136
Prints.....	2,388
Cuts.....	553
Designs.....	1,558
Drawings.....	324
Paintings.....	1,105
Statuary.....	73
Maps.....	1,198
Charts.....	1,070
Total.....	72,470

The total shows an increase of 4898 entries of the year 1895. The privilege of copyright in the United States is now extended to the citizens or subjects of Great Britain and her dependencies, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark, Chili, and Mexico.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

STEPHEN CRANE has announced that he likes England so well that he will make London his home.

THE author of "The Yellow Aster," Mrs. Caffyn, has written a new novel entitled "Miss Beecher." It will probably be published this season.

D. C. BOULGER, the well-known writer on Oriental subjects, is engaged upon a biography of Sir Stamford Raffles, the East India Company's distinguished civilian who ruled Java for a few years before its restoration to the Dutch at the end of the Napoleonic wars.

S. R. CROCKETT'S new story, "The Standard Bearer," which has for its subject the persecution of the Covenanters, begins in the issue of August 5 of The Christian World of London. On its completion in December it will be followed by "A North Country Romance," a new story by Edna Lyall.

WHEN Anthony Hope was asked if he would write a book giving his impressions of the United States after his coming visit, he said: "I shall be there too long to write my impressions. I understand that no traveller ever writes a book who stays in a country more than a week, and I shall be in America three months at least."

PAUL DUNBAR, the negro poet, who owes to W. D. Howells his introduction to the public, according to the London correspondent of the New York Times, "is being lionized in London in most flattering fashion. The color line is not drawn in English society, and the colored versifier being the latest literary novelty, is much sought after for receptions, garden parties, and similar gatherings. His readings of his own verses have been highly praised by the press, nor are criticisms of the verses themselves less friendly."

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALBANY, N. Y.—The Page Book Company has filed papers of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The company is formed for the purpose of manufacturing, printing, and selling book-covers, stationery, and printing supplies, and has a capital stock of $1200. The directors are Nelson H. Clark and Clara M. Hawley, of Albany, and Ellsworth M. Page, of Buffalo.

BELLEFONTE, PA.—J. C. J. Kurtz, bookseller, has disposed of his business to his two sons. Hereafter the business will be conducted by W. N. Kurtz & Bro., formerly of Clearfield.

CLEVELAND, O.—The Greenburg Publishing Co. has been incorporated with $2000 capital by C. P. Weeks, A. C. Bates, C. H. Stewart, E. F. Rowley, and A. J. Tane.

EUGENE, ORE.—Catherine Von Ehwegeen, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to Henry G. Miller.

EUREKA, CAL.—A suit in foreclosure has been brought against James E. Mathews, bookseller.

GREENFIELD, MASS.—R. W. Bemis has retired from the Merriam Book-Store. The stock of books has been sold to John Wilson & Co. Fred W. Brown, son of F. H. Brown, is to succeed to the management of the store, and keep besides a periodical stand, toys, etc.

HOUSTON, TEX.—John S. Purdy has purchased the stock of stationery and books from the Lathrop estate, and will continue the business at the old stand on Congress Avenue, where it has been since 1887.

HUNTINGTON, IND.—Dunfee & Goble, book-sellers, etc., have dissolved partnership.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS.—J. Gagne has opened a Catholic book-store at 108 Rivet Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—R. F. Fenno & Co. have removed to 9-11 East Sixteenth Street, where they occupy the third floor.

NORFOLK, VA.—T. B. Tanner has bought out the Brambleton News Company.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—News has just reached us of the assignment of Thomas Birch's Sons, the auctioneers.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The French Book-Store, 1332 Walnut Street, will continue open for business as usual under the supervision of Maurice Jolly, pending the adjustment of the firm's affairs by the assignee. The assigned estate is apparently fully solvent.

PIERRE, S. DAK.—The Kemp Brothers, who have for many years conducted a book-store here, have dissolved partnership. William Kemp will continue the business.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX.—Adolph F. Dugosh, late with W. J. Dargen, who died recently, has taken charge of the book department of "Louis' Book-Store," (L. B. Baldessarelli & Co.), 521 East Houston Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—D. Paul Eder, formerly with William Doxey, has begun business on his own account. He will make a specialty of fine books, that is, those of literary excellence as well as those of good manufacture. He has secured quarters in the inner court of the Mills Building, room 30, second floor. He requests that publishers send him their announcements.

SEDALIA, Mo.—L. L. Fielding has bought H. K. Bente's book and stationery business.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The International Studio, 140 Fifth Avenue, New York, has issued three extra numbers containing full-page reproductions without letter-press of the pictures in the 1897 exhibitions at the New Gallery, the Royal Academy, and the Paris Salons. In the New Gallery number is a reproduction of "The Vampire," by Philip Burne-Jones, which was the incentive of Rudyard Kipling's recent poem with the same title.

THE little newspaper, The Great Round World, having attained such a growth in the few months of its existence, it has become necessary for its publisher, W. B. Harison, to separate it from his other business and make a special department for it. It has been incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, and The Great Round World Publishing Company has come into existence. Mme. Z. Ragozin, author of the volumes on "Vedic India" and "Chaldea," in the Story of the Nations series, has undertaken a history of the world for children, and the first part of the history will be published shortly in The Great Round World, as it has been found necessary to illuminate the news of the day by giving the children an idea of the different nations of the world, together with cause and effect of the political movements of the hour.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

JOHN STANTON, a clerk in Warren E. Price's book-store, San Francisco, Cal., was arrested on a charge of selling obscene literature, and a quantity of books were seized.

F. TENNYSON NEELY has just published a volume of "Songs from the Wings," by Miss Minnie Gilmore, the daughter of the late Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, the famous bandmaster.

JOHN LANE has just published a "Jubilee Greeting at Spithead to the Men of Greater Britain," by Theodore Watts-Dunton; also "Opals," a volume of verse, by Olive Custance.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have in press a volume entitled "Miss Belladonna, a child of to-day," by Miss Caroline Ticknor, whose "Hypocritical Romance" was so warmly received last year.

DURING the youthful days of Zola and the late Henri Meilhac, when they were both assistants to Messrs. Hachette & Co., the work of Meilhac was to reach down the volumes from the shelves for Zola to make into parcels.

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish next month an edition in one volume of Boswell's "Life of Johnson," edited by Percy Fitzgerald. The book will be printed from new type, and will contain biographical sketches of every person mentioned in the text.

BRENTANO'S announce for immediate publication "Colonial Verses—Mount Vernon," by Ruth Lawrence, a series of verses, with accompanying illustrations of the home of Washington, showing the drawing-room, banquet-room, the music-room, the stairway, Washington's room, east front of the house, the garden, the spinning-house, and Washington's Tomb.

ANDREW LANG'S annual Christmas volume will this year be entitled "The Pink Fairy Book." It will have numerous illustrations drawn by H. J. Ford. Mr. Lang is editing for Longmans, Green & Co. a series of selections from the poets. Each volume will contain "that portion of the works of the writer which in critical opinion most deserves immortality." The first volume will be "Wordsworth," illustrated by Alfred Parsons, and subsequent books will contain selections from Scott, Coleridge, Byron, and other poets.

A. C. MCCLURG & CO. will publish in the fall Miss Marguerite Bouvet's new book, "A Little House in Pimlico"; a new book by Miss Elizabeth Wormeley Latimer, "Spain in the Nineteenth Century"; and a new book by Lieut. Herbert H. Sargent, entitled "The Campaign of Marengo." They have also in preparation a companion volume to the fine limited edition of Mme. de Sevigné's letters, the title of which the publishers are not yet prepared to announce. Like its predecessor, the new volume will be of very dainty character in all points of manufacture, and embellished with photogravure portraits and views.

WAY & WILLIAMS will issue next month Stanley Waterloo's new book, "The Story of Ab, a tale of the time of the cave men." Though the scene of the story is laid perhaps a hundred thousand years ago, the account is not merely one of inspiration. Indeed for a number of years the author has had the assistance of the Smithsonian Institution, the United States Geological Survey, and of scientists at home and abroad in gathering the data upon which his novel is based. Way & Williams have also in press a little book of verse by Mrs. M. Adams, the wife of the president of the University of Wisconsin, to be entitled "The Choir Invisible."

THE CENTURY CO. has issued as a poster for the Midsummer Holiday (August) number of The Century the design by Maxfield Parrish that took the second prize in the poster competition of last year. Mr. Parrish is a Philadelphia artist and the son of Stephen Parrish, the well-known etcher. Out of seven hundred competitors in The Century Co.'s competition Mr. Parrish won the second prize, the first prize going to J. C. Leyendecker, of Chicago, and the third to Baron Arild Rosenkrantz, a Danish decorative artist living in New York. Mr. Leyendecker's design, a girl with poppies, was published last year. Although Mr. Parrish has won several prizes for his posters, few of them have been published, and he is represented in most poster collections by his cover designs only.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY announces an attractive holiday book, entitled "Singing Verses for Children." It will contain a group of eighteen songs set to music and illustrated. They are designed to be sung by children as well as to children, and will be brought out in a way that will attract both musicians and children, who will find in it a beautiful picture book with simple music and verse of attractive rhythm. The verses are by Lydia Avery Coonley, and are simple and natural, full of the spirit of outdoor life and so varied that something can be found in it appropriate to every season. The illustrations are by Alice Kellogg Tyler, and show a strong attachment to the little folk and that keen sympathy with the spirit of each song which is essential to the best illustration. The Macmillan Company also announces an historical account of Western life by Col. Henry Inman, late of the United States Army, entitled "The Old Santa Fé Trail."

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish in the fall, under the title of "This Country of Ours," the articles which ex-President Harrison contributed to The Ladies' Home Journal. The articles have been revised and considerably extended. According to the Indianapolis Journal, there is a little story in connection with both the articles and their publication: "When the arrangement for the articles was made with General Harrison by Edward W. Bok, editor of The Ladies' Home Journal, the General was paid for them, with the understanding that when they were put into book form the magazine was to share the royalties accruing therefrom. Mr. Bok, however, of his own accord, generously released General Harrison from paying him any royalty, for the reason, as he states, that by the publication of the articles by General Harrison the subscription list of his magazine was enlarged many thousands. The profits to The Ladies' Home Journal were more than the publishers anticipated, and in view of this Mr. Bok asks nothing further. General Harrison placed the disposition of his book in Mr. Bok's hands. The best offer came to the editor from the Scribners, and to them Mr. Bok gave the book of his distinguished contributor."

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

With the Turkish Army in Thessaly.

By CLIVE BIGHAM, author of "A Ride Through Western Asia." With illustrations and maps. Cloth, 8vo. Price, $2.50.

This is the book which was reviewed at some length in the Nation last week, with comments on the writer's "essential fairness," "studiously clear descriptions," "the powerful interest of his story," etc., and the following paragraph in conclusion:

"The unity of effect achieved in this narrative is so happy that those who read it may almost regret as time misspent the attention given to piecemeal reports published in the daily press as the war proceeded. A certain falsity of perspective and lack of proportion is unavoidable so long as the events described are in progress, and renders the refashioning of a war-correspondent's original material before it appears in permanent form obviously necessary. This has rarely been done to better purpose than in the present book."
